

Student Directory Information

Under section 9528 of the NCLB Act, local school districts are required to disclose the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of high school students upon request by military recruiters and institutions of higher learning, unless individual students or their parents request the information not be released without prior written consent. This law does not require disclosure of any information that is not considered directory information under the Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA). School districts are obligated to provide military recruiters with the same access to secondary school students as is provided generally to post secondary educational institutions or to prospective employers of those students. Districts must release “directory information relating to pupils” or provide access to school grounds and facilities” to persons who inform pupils of educational, occupational, or career opportunities” and must provide the military with the same access. High school students and their parents must complete the student and parent consent forms sent home with students if you do not wish to have your child’s name, address, and telephone number disclosed to recruiters and institutions of higher learning.