

Challenge of Children Conference

Thursday, May 17, 2012

8AM–3PM Hope College—Holland, MI

Keynote by Bob Lancer

Raising Ourselves, Raising Our Children

The key to raising children to fulfill their higher potential is to continue “raising ourselves.” As you dedicate yourself to ongoing personal development, you automatically exert a more positive influence on children, enjoy better results with them, and lead them toward life-long personal growth by your example. Taking charge in our relationship with children begins with taking charge of ourselves first, because we cannot improve a child’s self-control while we are losing ours. Receive inspiration and powerful instruction on living with more peace and poise, how to lead your life to make your dreams come true, and to teach children how to do the same. There will be some powerful, positive parenting solutions for difficult child behavior included in this dynamic, engaging, motivating presentation.
