Z Pass Information

ZPass is designed for school transportation to track and monitor student ridership in a safe and non-intrusive way. Knowing if and when a student got on or off the bus accounts for a significant portion of calls parents make to schools and is information that schools need to know. ZPass provides accurate and immediate answers.

Students carry a small card that contains passive RFID (Radio Frequency Identification Device) technology that logs each student's entry or exit automatically when the student passes the scanner located on the school bus.

Each student will be assigned a bus card that they will need to carry with them every day to and from school. The cards should be used throughout the day if students go on field trips and are involved in athletic events, as well as every day transportation to and from home.

An added feature is ZPass+ which gives parents a new level of comfort and assurance. By simple notifications of where and when their child gets on or off the school bus sent directly through push notifications or cell phone text message. Parents can activate the account by visiting www.zpassplus.com and signing up to receive instant messaging to a cell phone or an email account.

Parents will need their child's Zpass card number. After activating the ZPass+ account, parents can log in to the password protected website to view their child's bus riding activity. A small monthly fee will apply.
